

Our ingredients shape new products naturally.

The functional products category is hot, and the drivers for this market are unique ingredients and the solutions they provide. We're BI Nutraceuticals, and we've been sourcing and supplying quality botanical ingredients and extracts to manufacturers in the natural products industry for decades. BI can provide turnkey custom blended ingredient solutions for your current and future products. Our custom extracts and blends are water-soluble and easy to integrate into any formulation – adding both function and value. So if nature is part of the plan for your next product, make sure BI ingredients are, too.
